Some answers might be slightly different depending on the situation or student.

QUESTIONS ABOUT REGISTRATION AND ELIGIBILITY

Q: When is the last date to register for summer courses? In addition, are there different dates for different courses?

A: The last day to register is the Thursday before the first date of the summer course you are planning on taking. Courses may fill up prior to that date so we recommend signing up early to reserve space. The majority of our for-credit courses run for the entirety of the five week session, however we also have enrichment programs that are scheduled for one and two weeks. All course schedules are varied based on the subject matter and general requirements of each course.

Q: If I change my mind about a summer course and want to cancel enrollment can I get a refund?

A: Refunds will be given prior to April 25 in certain circumstances, and minus the $80 deposit. Refunds may be given if a parent purchased a duplicate course by accident, but not if a for-credit course was purchased for a student who has not met the eligibility requirements for the course. Please note that after April 25, refunds will not be issued for those instances in which a child wishes to cancel their registration.

Q: I saw a summer course that I wanted to sign my child up for but now it is not available online. Is the course full?

A: As we get closer to the end of May, we will cancel those courses that have not met the minimum enrollment number. However, sometimes searching in ACTIVE does not yield the results that it should, so please let us know what course you are looking for and we can confirm.

Q: I am registering my child for the Algebra 2/Geometry for-credit course. I noticed that there's a disclaimer "I understand as a BASIS Independent student that I am required to receive Dean approval prior to registering for any for-credit math courses. I also understand that if I choose to register without approval, and my child subsequently is not approved for the course, the deposit and tuition paid are not refundable." Should we get Dean approval before registering?

A: Yes, while BASIS Independent students may wish to accelerate their math pathway, they must do this with approval. During T2, current students who are in Algebra 2/Geometry and below will be informed if they have a high enough average in their current math class to be eligible to sign up for summer math acceleration (if they wish to). Newly admitted students must also meet eligibility requirements to accelerate their math course. Any child who enrolled in a for-credit course that they are not eligible for will not be refunded for the course.

Q: My child is currently taking Algebra 1/Geometry. Can they can take Algebra 2/Geometry this summer for credit?

A: During T2, families will receive an email letting them know if their child is eligible to move on to the next math level. If you have not received this information by March, please check with your child's Dean.

Q: My child has self-studied for math over the last several years and knows higher-level math than the summer course. Please tell me why they cannot test out of the math level and accelerate that way?

A: Your student will need to take their next math class in sequence over the summer so that this course is listed on their academic transcript. We have to strictly follow our course sequencing so that all graduation requirements for specific math levels are listed per the state of California requirements. We have many students who opt to self-study in a variety of subjects, but we still have to follow the transcript and have them enrolled in the next course in sequence irrespective of any outside knowledge that students may learn in various enrichment environments. They may find the course easy this summer, but they can definitely use that to their advantage, as it is an accelerated course with a short time span.

Q: Is there an option to enroll in enrichment programs for only certain days, with the fees prorated accordingly?

A: We will not be able to prorate the cost, but you are welcome to enroll a student in an enrichment course even if they do not plan to attend all dates.

QUESTIONS ABOUT ATTENDANCE

Q: Is my child required to take the entire 120 hours of course material, or can they just take the final assessment?

A: In order to get the full academic credit, your child will need to participate in the course and attend all but five days. Missing more time than this will mean that your child does not earn credit for the course.

Q: We have plans for travel during the first week of class; will you be able to share recordings of the lessons that my student will miss? Can they self-study to stay on track and make up work when they return?

A: All of our courses are live, high engagement courses, whether offered in-person or virtually. Curriculum is taught during the classes themselves, and we do not offer resources to self-study, as the intention of the course is that it is an instructor led class. Specific to our absence policy however, students are required to attend the first and last weeks of for-credit courses. These weeks are simply too important to the course with respect to the foundational knowledge and procedures.

Q: My child has qualified for a competition and will be missing some days of the summer course. How should we handle this?

A: That is a very exciting prospect! Please keep in mind that students may miss no more than five days if enrolled in any for-credit course, with the exception of Economics, in which students may miss no more than three days. Please alert the Summer HOS about your planned travel dates to see if taking the course this summer is advisable based on the time your student will be missing. Please note that students may not miss any dates during the first and last weeks of any for-credit summer course.

QUESTIONS ABOUT THE START OF THE COURSE AND GRADING

Q: We've registered for an in-person course. Will we be able to order lunch online like during the regular school year?

A: Unfortunately, we do not provide lunch during the summer. Students should bring snacks and/or lunch each day.

Q: When will I receive my Schoology login to be able to access content for my summer course?

A: The logins will be shared approximately a week prior to the first date of your summer course. These credentials will be sent to the email address that parents used to register their student for our summer program.

Q: The course my child signed up for has an eBook set as the textbook. When will I find out how to access the text?

A: Within a week of the start of the course, you will receive an email with Zoom login information for your child's course. More details will be shared during the first class meeting.

Q: What are the grading policies for summer programs; how do I know if my child passed on to the next math level?

A: To move on to the next math level in the fall, students need to earn both a 90% on the final exam and a 90% grade in the course. If it ends up being the case that your student does not earn a 90% or better for the final grade, we would have your student repeat their summer course in the fall.

Q: After the final exam, how soon will we know if our student passed their math course?

A: The final is held on the last day of the course, and all final grades are submitted that same day. Final grades for summer courses can be expected in a week to 10 days following the end of the course. Based on the results, math levels are then scheduled for the coming school year.
